Message from the Headmaster

"Beginnings are always exciting." As the new headmaster of Charlestown High School, this year has been an exciting beginning for me, full of new names and challenges and so many wonderful students, parents, community members and staff with whom I have been privileged to work. It has been a year full of challenges and some heartaches, but there have also been many successes and lot of fun. I want to thank everyone who made this a good year for our school, and to give particular thanks to everyone who brightened a day with a smile, kind words, or a helping hand.

Not only beginnings are exciting, but endings are, too. For those of you who are graduating this year, there are new opportunities and challenges ahead. I hope that you will take a part of Charlestown High School with you as you go, memories of the teachers and the classes and the friends who have accompanied you in these important years of your lives. I hope that you will achieve your dreams and that you will also help others to achieve their dreams. There is a Chinese proverb that says, "If you want happiness for a lifetime - help the next generation." I have found that happiness in my work this year at Charlestown, and I hope that, along with the other successes that you will enjoy in your lives, you will have this happiness, too.

Ms. Jarudi

C-Town Spirit is a unique venture, operated by and for students. Students in Ms. Jarudi's Entrepreneurship II class are the managers and employees in this class business. With oversight and coaching from business leaders in the community, they have a registered non-profit whose mission is to improve school spirit, educational opportunity, and community relations, while learning entrepreneurship in a fun and hands-on way.

This year's C-Town Spirit students accomplished a lot! They were responsible for the Grand Opening of the C-town Gear school store. In addition, they had two Polo Days, where they wore their polo's and promoted school spirit. As a team, they went to the Hall of Fame Basketball Tournament and to a Celtics game. Throughout the year, the students fund raised and sold promotional products. They sold gift cards around Christmas and produced the Got Arabic? bags and Unit Pride T-shirts. This year's C-town Gear store offered hoodies, drawstring bags, water bottles, umbrellas, pens, buttons, and more. Using the profits from these activities, the students are giving two $1,000 scholarships to graduating seniors who show school spirit. These scholarships will be given at the first annual C-Town Spirit Banquet. In addition, C-town Spirit partnered with Neil Swidey, the author of The Assist, and supported the created of the Alray Taylor Second Chance Scholarship for Charlestown High alumni who need help to get back to college. For more information, please see www.c-townspirit.org and www.theassist.net.
